Fast Moving Products vs. Slow Moving Products

Success in retail requires you to invest wisely by buying the right quantity; enough to keep the sales going while at the same time preventing stock-outs. FiNAC Mobile, Electronics and Warranty Management System's dedicated inventory management system will help identify the fast and slow moving products. This helps make informed buying decision and manage your cash flow through efficient working capital management.

Service, Repair and Warranty Management

Providing a service/repair option gives consumer electronic companies a key advantage over their competitors by increasing customer loyalty, offering up-sell opportunities and create competitive advantage. FiNAC offers all the functionality for warranty/service / repair options. Additionally, it has the ability to track products by IMEI, or serial number.

In short, FiNAC provides full product history and traceability from IMEI, or serial number. Bar code scanners can be used to identify any stock item for any movement e.g. items can be checked into warehouses by scanning in and can be moved to other locations by bar code reference, and can be dispatched through shop or warehouse using scanners.

The system lets you know:

- How goods keep flowing in & out of the store throughout the season
- Which items are 'hot' and which are not, and their respective suppliers
- What are your best-selling stores and who are your best individual sales staff
- How much you should invest in inventory from month to month
- How much inventory you need to order to keep up with expected sales without going overboard and tying up too much capital
